WRITE A POP-UP PALOOZA BOOK

This is your chance to create a pop-up and turn it into a book. Woohoo! This is one of my favorite things to do.

Here's one that I recently made.

That's me peeking out from behind the book. I'm Storyologist Page Turner and I'm going to help you make your book. It's going to be a blast!

I like to start with the pop-up because once I see what my pop-up looks like it gives me ideas about what to write for my story.

TO MAKE YOUR POP-UP

Ask your adult to download the instructions and help you watch the video. The links are on the website in Myrtle Over the Moon's Seven Way Adventure.

Come back here when you are ready to write your story.

TIME TO WRITE YOUR STORY

Does your pop-up character look happy? sad? mad?

What's your character's name?

Where do you think your character would like to go?
It can be a real place like your school or any imaginary place.

Does your character have a best friend?

Is the friend part of your story?

It's your book. You are the author and the illustrator. So you get to decide these things.

Here are some things about writing stories that may help you.

Did you know that every story has three parts?

Beginning Middle End

But what should go in each part?

Well...

1. BEGINNING

At the beginning of the story we start with a main character who wants something and feels a certain way.

2. MIDDLE

Something gets in the way of the character getting what they want.

3. END

The character changes or learns something at the end of the story. They also feel differently from how they did at the beginning.

Your story title:

What is the problem in your story?

---

How will you work this problem out?

---

What is the beginning?

---

What is the middle?

---

What is the end?
